

Monitor the basin evolution in its various components

The Niger Basin Observatory aims to monitor the basin in hydrological and environmental dimensions

(both natural and human environment

) but also socio-economic

.
To fulfill this mission, it will be up to this structure to collect, format, process and store data on these different dimensions.